ALMA MATER

Thou wast born of dreams, Mary Baldwin, Mary Baldwin,
Woman's dreams of love and true desire;
Conqueror's dreams with passion's ardor glowing,
Caught from Truth's undying, pure white fire.
Born to live, to perish never,
To inspire to high endeavor,
To uphold that light forever,
Mary Baldwin!

Thou wast built of dreams, Mary Baldwin, Mary Baldwin,
Dreams of faith, the dreams of early dawn.
Thou shalt live beyond time's farthest limit;
Dreams shall last when walls of stone are gone.
Born to live, to perish never,
To inspire to high endeavor,
To uphold that light forever,
Mary Baldwin!

SENIOR MEMORIES

THE class of 1940 has lived its days. Hard have we worked and hard have we played. The successions of tests, bulky notebooks, inky fountain pens, long term-papers written the night before they were due, cramming, and bluebooks full of our meager knowledge, fade into the past. Our study lamps, which for four years have shone on our open textbooks and half-written papers, while we rested an elbow on a book due for outside reading, are snapped off. In the dusk we remember our play, made richer and more memorable by the work with which we earned it.

It all began with our first Athletic picnic, the best one there has ever been. Then followed in rapid succession Rat day when, attired in green dunce caps, we obediently bowed to the sophomores; our freshman-junior banquet with its sophisticated night-club motif; our fine fashion show; the Mother Goose banquet we gave the seniors, when Shirley Fleming read Ferdinand; our BLUESTOCKING carnival when the class rooms became gay cabarets with glamorous floorshows; the Minstrel show when Flo Cooper first sang "It Takes a Long, Tall, Dark-Skinned Gal"; the fun of being given a banquet by the freshmen; our elaborate "Century of Progress" banquet for the seniors; our BLUESTOCKING; our hilarious senior play; our Christmas party and caroling; our drive for the new gym; senior recitals in music and dramatics; the sophomore-senior banquet, the junior-senior banquet, and of course our own May Day and Class Day.

We have missed little of college life. We have been enthusiastic, if not skilled, athletes; we have enjoyed dramatics and art and music. We have welcomed the added responsibilities of our senior year, and have done our best.

Now we close our English and science books and lock our hoard of golden memories. Armed with the ideals which Mary Baldwin has given us, we go forth into the world.

THE JOURNAL OF A JUNIOR

UPPERCLASSMEN at last, and it's well worth those two years of preparation. Chaperoning is helpful to the budget and riding in a car with a man on Saturday is a joy unequalled, at least to those of us who are fortunate enough to know a man. Blue slips for gym activity are a slight bother, but choosing your own type of exercise has its points. Highlights—Martha Farmer as Miss Lakenan and Brewster Albright as Dr. Vandiver in our Faculty Album at the Athletic picnic—the Freshman Advisers from our class who have helped to make that new institution an unqualified success—wearing a class ring for the first time and how much it means—Phyllis, our president, and the fine job she did in Cradle Song—the privileged few were allowed to go caroling with the seniors—the sobering thought that the next Christmas Party will be ours—and our last—the memorable party the alumnae gave us at the Club just before Christmas vacation.

With second semester many of us say good-bye to required subjects and two cuts in everything becomes a reality at last—Dorris and all the things she does beside leaving restriction slips in our mailboxes on Tuesday morning—Sarah Lane elected to the Honor Society—the irrepressible front row of our section in Chapel—the snow that changed so many week-end plans between semesters—Julia Harris in the Queen's Court at Dartmouth Winter Carnival—the memorable Valentine Banquet the freshmen gave for us and our thoughtful dates from our sister class of '43—the "New Gym" campaign begins again and we rack our brains for ideas to boost our contribution—the squirrels return with the spring, and once more we wonder whether they inspired the school crest or vice versa—the Banquet at the Tavern when we presented our yearbook to the seniors—graduation and we move our tassels to the last side of the mortarboards—a few tears and how hard it is to say good-bye to our friends—they've been just one step ahead of us ever since Rat Court our freshman year and we've always had them to look up to—now we'll be the high and mighty seniors, incredible though it may seem.

THROUGH A SOPHOMORE'S EYES

THIS is your sophomore reporter bringing you a summary of the most important events of the year as compiled by the class of '42 . . . flash . . . the war between classes was resumed some time in September (this is one date that won't have to be remembered by History classes) . . . Liz Luck and other members of the Y.W.C.A. (no relation to the W.P.A.) forfeited a few days of the summer's peace to come back early to meet incoming trains carrying the defense troops.

. . . flash . . . on September 16 we went to Crafton Park to share our sandwiches with the ants. This was the Athletic Picnic. After the M.B.C. World Series was played, there was a reunion of the class at Marion Hornsby's Hilarity House.

. . . flash . . . gala reception held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Karl E. Shedd on September 17 in the form of a "welcome back" party.

. . . flash . . . and a flash . . . mice vs. men . . . the revenge of the sophomores. "Freshman initiation day," September 25. As long as we live we shall never forget "Rat Butler," "Rat Paradies," and "Rat B. Ware," . . . flash . . . the Winnah! The defeat of the juniors and freshmen in Hockey. The sophomores upset predictions and become the Champions. . . . flash . . . November 5 . . . Vesper Service in Chapel conducted by the sophomore class . . . subject . . . "Building."

. . . flash . . . pumpkins and pilgrims of 1939. Sophomores had Thanksgiving "open house" with all the trimmings.

. . . flash . . . fresh from M. B. C.'s Broadway comes Louise Vandiviere, who played one of the leads in "The Cradle Song."

. . . flash . . . vocal talent found in the Christmas Caroling.

. . . flash . . . big banquet given for the seniors as a token of our esteem. It was an equal to any Presidential feed.

. . . flash . . . April 19, sophomores conduct Chapel.

. . . flash . . . a successful year saw its culmination in Class Day and May Day with singing and dancing.

. . . looking forward to the third term of the class of '42 . . . will miss not having the senior class back . . . appreciate the help of all faculty members, our Deans and our President . . . also the help of our classmates and school chums . . . We enjoyed our year from September '39 to June '40, because we planned it that way . . . sophomores hate school, freshmen and juniors hate school, . . . aren't seniors lucky?

. . . Special Bulletin! . . . lots of luck to you all . . .

Sunday morning "I'll wash your face!" Crafton's swimming pool—Hello!—natural dancers—Mimi and Wally—Smiling Shirley—"Sophis"—the winners—those carefree days of freshmen—Sue and Lee—sophisticated class of '42—Queen of Vitality—the "Science of Man"—the "1:20"—Jolly Juniors—Ham and Jan's companions—first picnic of the year—more sophomores—"Merry" Christmas—student grins—solid comfort—the "Clubhouse Gang."

FROM A FRESHMAN'S DIARY

SEPTEMBER 13, 1939—my first day at college!—Mary Baldwin is wonderful! I can't believe that I'm actually here. September 17th—Tonight was the Y.W.C.A. candlelight service—it was beautiful, and very inspiring—September 19th—today, really, honest'n' truly, classes started. For the past few days I've just matriculated myself to a nub! Handbook classes—and finally, the exam! September 23rd—the Athletic Association picnic out at Craiton's—class skits and a faculty fashion show—more fun—I like college better all the time! September 26th—Rat Day!—sophomores—peanuts—lipstick—"wipe that smile off your face!" (But it was fun!) October 4th—Miss Baldwin's birthday and Founders' Day—now I really feel a part of Mary Baldwin—ivy planting—"Thou wast born of dreams, Mary Baldwin!"—October 16th—the reception for the freshmen given by Dr. and Mrs. Jarman—it was lovely! November 8th—my first college quizzes—then quarterly grades—November 23rd and 30th—two Thanksgivings—two holidays—turkey—football—fun! December 12th—Orientation exam—at last I'm "oriented"!—December 14th—"Twas the night before Christmas!"—the Christmas party—December 15th—home!—January 3rd—back "in the groove" again—January 18th—Exams begin today—Oh, woe is me!—January 25th—they're over at last—now for relaxation and fun—an entire free week-end—January 29th—second semester begins—February 14th—Valentine's Day and the freshman-junior banquet—"Will you be my Valentine?"—February 18th—we started on our gym project today—selling ham sandwiches and "cokes"—March 20th—Spring Holidays!—Easter eggs—new hats—home—eight whole days of vacation—May 17th—Final exams—enough said!—June 3rd—last day of our freshman year—it's been wonderful—May Day—Graduation good-bye!

HILDA BROWN

PRESIDENT OF
STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The spirit of loyalty, unity, and Christian fellowship that prevails at Mary Baldwin is due in large measure to the work of the Student Government Association. It is the Student Government's ideal of personal honor and co-operation that makes life at Mary Baldwin so happy and successful.

This year the Student Government has carried through a highly successful plan. Freshman Advisers were appointed to guide the new students into an understanding of the principles and ideals of Mary Baldwin, and to their new life under Student Government.

Hilda Brown has been the capable and efficient leader of the Association, and she has been backed by an excellent council. The remarkable thing about Student Government, in addition to the ability and energy of its leaders, is the fact that every student shares in the responsibilities that belonging to the Association entails.

As we leave Mary Baldwin, the ideals and spirit of high living, for which the Student Government Association stands, will always be an inspiration to us.

ALICE JONES

PRESIDENT OF THE Y. W. C. A.

THE Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. strives to develop in each student at Mary Baldwin a well-rounded personality, and to knit the college together in a spirit of friendship and Christian Service.

The "Little Sister" program gives each freshman a "Big Sister" to help and advise her.

Unforgettable was the Candlelight Service at the beginning of the school year—girls in white carrying lighted candles, singing the ever inspiring "Follow The Gleam."

The Y. W. parties in the gym on Saturday nights were always jolly get-togethers where we threw aside our worries of the week.

Most interesting of all, the Y. W. work has been that done at the V. S. D. B. with the blind girls' Sunbeam and Girl Reserve Clubs.

What fun we had Peanut Week! How exciting to receive presents from an unknown shell, and then to discover who she was at the Peanut Party!

Our trip around the world with the World Fellowship Committee was very enlightening.

The impressive close of the Y. W. program was the Installation of the new officers in the chapel Sunday church service.

The Y. W., with Alice Jones and her co-operative and efficient cabinet, has had a deep and lasting influence on our lives at Mary Baldwin.

THE ALGERNON SYDNEY SULLIVAN AWARD

The New York Southern Society, in order to perpetuate the memory of Algernon Sydney Sullivan (through whose efforts the Society was founded), in such a form that shall be most expressive of his character, established an award to be made in certain Southern colleges, to one member of the graduating class of each institution selected. Each school may present this award to another person, not a member of the student body, in whom accomplishment and service are outstanding, and who shall have some interest in, association with, or relation to said institution. At the 1939 Commencement, Mary Baldwin College presented the awards to: Shirley Black, '39, Spartanburg, South Carolina, President of the Student Government Association; Dr. Hunter B. Blakely, President of the Board of Trustees of the College. On Founders' Day, October 4, 1939, the award was presented to Mrs. Cordell Hull, of Washington, D. C., an alumna of Mary Baldwin.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Campus Comments—the weekly newspaper of the college—has made a special effort this year to publish news articles and stories of universal interest as well as those of collegiate activities. The newspaper also gives information concerning the events of other colleges and news of the Mary Baldwin Alumnae Association.

Members of the Campus Comments staff, who attended the 1939 meeting of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association in Washington, have introduced new ideas which have been used in the publications of this year in an attempt to give a college newspaper which is interesting and vital to Mary Baldwin girls.

THE BLUESTOCKING

To the junior class each year is intrusted the editing of THE BLUESTOCKING—our college annual publication. The fun we have had in our work, and the new interests which were opened to us as it progressed, helped to make our work a fascinating pastime.

To Miss Fannie Strauss, our adviser and friend, we acknowledge our deepest appreciation for her invaluable help in the editing of this book.

We've all co-operated and given of our best. We are glad to present to our classmates THE BLUESTOCKING of 1940. If we have succeeded in capturing for you a few of the highlights of your year here, and something of that intangible spirit so much a part of Mary Baldwin, we shall feel our efforts well rewarded.

THE MISCELLANY

The Miscellany is the college literary magazine. It is published four times each year, presenting the best creative writing of the students. The purpose of the magazine is to stimulate an interest in writing among members of the student body, and to encourage students to discover the fun of writing, as a hobby. This year The Miscellany sponsored a short-story contest, awarding prizes to the writers of the three best stories submitted.

Although The Miscellany is one of the oldest student publications of the college, it has kept up with the times without sacrificing tradition. It reflects the ideals and aspirations which play such an important part in our college life.

KITTY HOLT

PRESIDENT OF THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Association, headed by Kitty Holt, aided by the various sports leaders, strives to interest the entire student body in recreation, and to develop a spirit of sportsmanship and fair play.

We got off to a gay start with the Athletic Picnic held at Crafton Park—riding and singing in an open truck, class skits, faculty skit (what a fashion show!), loads of food and great fun!

The Association tries to keep our spirits up during exams by putting on an extensive athletic program. The many activities always open to Mary Baldwin girls help to keep them vital and alert.

We always await breathlessly the Spring Horse Show. And this year we saw some excellent riding!

The physical education department, with the co-operation of the Athletic Association, sponsored our gay and colorful May Day.

The Association has afforded us great pleasure and much wholesome recreation at Mary Baldwin this year.

MARY BALDWIN ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

WINIFRED LOVE
ALUMNAE SECRETARY

In 1893, Miss Baldwin, foreseeing the future growth of her school and the increasing number of her graduates, began her plans for the formation of an alumnae association, and in 1894 the first organized meeting of the Augusta Female Seminary alumnae was held. In the forty-six years from that date, the Mary Baldwin Seminary and the Mary Baldwin College Alumnae Association has grown to over 5,000 with fifty organized chapters, extending from New York to Florida and westward to California.

Striving to follow the ideals laid down for it by Miss Baldwin, the Association has at all times served Mary Baldwin to the best of its ability. With the approach of the centennial in 1942 broader fields of service are open to the Association than ever before. Active participation in the Alumnae Association is the best way for the individual to share in the increasing usefulness of Mary Baldwin, to pay tribute to her glorious past and to join in planning for her future.

NEW CENTURY PROGRAM

In two more years, Mary Baldwin College will have completed one hundred years of service in the higher education of women. In planning for its centennial celebration in 1942, the entire college personnel looks on a closing century in respectful memory of the progress it has brought, and looks toward a new century with renewed inspiration.

The New Century Program, under the direction of Lucien P. Giddens, seeks through the enlargement of the facilities and endowment of Mary Baldwin, to give assurance that her future may be replete with traditional achievement. The college, therefore, will undertake the needed physical development on the campus not in the spirit of fundamental change but in the spirit of further progress—a planned progress that would protect all of the heritage that is Mary Baldwin's while enabling her to carry on effectively her challenging mission in higher education.
